

Corey's Promise Church Grounds Clean Up Project Thank You!

First-time visitors to Our Lady Queen of Martyrs are often moved by the beauty of our setting along the inlet, where nature gently reflects the presence of God. The Sacred Space, in particular, offers a peaceful place for prayer, reflection, and quiet encounter with the Lord.

In preparation for Easter, the members of Corey's Promise once again came together in faithful service to care for this holy ground. On a gray Holy Thursday, dedicated volunteers worked with generous hearts – clearing leaves, trimming, and planting – transforming the space in time for the joy of Easter Sunday morning. Their efforts helped ready the Sacred Space to the Risen Christ in beauty and peace.

This work is done in loving memory of Corey, whose deep faith found expression in this very place. After the cleanup, the Tarsio family continues this devotion throughout the summer months, faithfully maintaining the grounds in honor of Corey's life and love for God.

May we all take time to enter this Sacred Space, to slow down, give thanks, and be reminded – just as Corey was – of God's presence among us.
